

A Movement of Justice in Washington State

In WA State funding is accessible for domestic violence survivors, sans a crucial group remains overlooked: Mothers and Children caught in the family court system. This segment of the domestic violence market is severely underserved, underrepresented, and openly exploited, and we have concluded it is by design. This gap isn't just a failure of justice; it represents an intersectional issue with far-reaching impacts that costs billions in taxpayer dollars, exacerbating homelessness, mental health crises, adverse childhood experiences (ACE), and perpetuating intergenerational trauma.

We are a coalition of survivors who are surviving The Family Court Crisis in Washington State. At the onset of our Domestic Violence in Family Court Legislative & Media Educational Series we provide an overview of the Family Court Crises linked below, a critical issue plaguing our nation. By not adequately protecting mothers and children, the system perpetuates a cycle of abuse and neglect, with far-reaching consequences. In fact, the Family Court system of players aids the abuser in [un]knowingly continuing the abuse. Let us show you how this happens.

Custody Crisis Rabbit Holes Introduction

Abuse Rabbit Hole

Alienation Rabbit Hole

Money Rabbit Hole

Gender Neutral Rabbit Hole

Rights & Laws Rabbit Hole

Our group consists of over a thousand mothers, children, supporters, and professionals who have witnessed what is described in the series and are committed to shining a light on this epidemic. Our goal is educating the decision makers, law makers, and misery makers of the institutional truths integrated into 'Abuse By Design' of the system and its detrimental effects on families and society. To that end, the label Domestic Violence has been so watered down, it's no wonder the largest segment of that market is underserved. Some would describe as Gender Terrorism, because the first victim of a terrorist is in her home.

WA State ranks in the top 10 for Domestic Violence rates and equally matched on the Family Court Domestic Violence atrocity scale. Help us make a change and reply "change now".

Signed,
Concerned Citizens of The Family Court Crisis

